

WHY EXPERIMENT?

Food scientists claim that the leavener is largely responsible for the flavor, texture and wholesomeness of your home baking. That on no other one ingredient does so much depend. It is important, therefore, to use a baking powder that you know possesses the necessary leavening qualities.

The Demand for Uniformity

In this very practical age there is a widespread demand for the adoption of uniform methods in business, uniform systems of currency and weights and measures, uniform laws in relation to many subjects, even a uniform language, and some people would have a uniform and simplified calendar, a uniform church, while the extremists in the ranks of labor would have all men and women become servants of the state, with no private ownership of property. In a word, there is a growing tendency to standardize everything that can be standardized without giving much thought to the all-important question whether such standardization would ultimately prove to be of benefit to the human race.

In order to provide for quantity production, standardization is necessary. The war emphasized that truth. Furthermore, standardization makes for economy in manufacture. Hardly anyone will deny that if it were possible to standardize all makes of agricultural machinery, with all parts interchangeable, it would mean an enormous saving in time, labor and money. And what is true in regard to implements of agricultural production is really true in many other lines.

Efforts which have been put forth in recent years in Canada to bring about a larger degree of uniformity in legislation are also along the right line. With a Federal Parliament and nine Provincial Legislatures all passing laws every twelve months, and in many instances all dealing with the same subject, the need for uniformity where it is at all possible is quite manifest if confusion is to be avoided and people enabled to have a clear understanding of the law. It is, therefore, gratifying to know that success is attending the efforts of those who are striving to bring about uniform insurance laws, uniform laws governing companies, a uniform divorce law, and so on. The various movements to establish throughout Canada uniform qualifications for doctors, lawyers, dentists, school teachers, etc., so that persons qualified in any of these professions in one Province will be eligible to follow them in another Province, are sane, sensible and economically and nationally wise.

There are, however, some demands for uniformity which should receive careful scrutiny and serious consideration before they are complied with. Take, for example, the agitation for a common language. In the first place it is a waste of time because it is impractical. People will not relinquish their mother tongue, and while it is right and proper that in an English-speaking country every child should be obliged to learn English, and the teaching of English in every school should be insisted upon; it is the height of folly to expect all people to abandon the use of their native tongue. And to endeavor to provide a universal language for the world, whether it be English, or French, or Latin, or Esperanto, is futile. But even if it could be accomplished, would not the human race be the loser through such uniformity and the elimination of all the beauties of expression of which every language has its share? Even admitting the practical advantages of a universal language, would not the losses resulting therefrom more than offset the practical advantages gained?

Then there are those who would have the metric or decimal system of weights, measures and coinage adopted all over the world. Others would reform the calendar and provide for a year of thirteen months, each containing exactly four weeks, so that any given date would always fall on the same day of the week; that is, if the 1st, 8th, 15th and 22nd of January were Sunday, so, too, would the same dates in all the other months fall on Sunday, and what would be true of Sunday would be likewise true of every other day in the week. These changes would, of course, have their advantages, but in view of the tremendous upheaval they would work in so many ways, their adoption is very remote. Little is to be gained, therefore, in wasting time over them.

But wherever it is possible to bring it about there should be uniformity in legislation within Canada. Such uniformity will tend to unify our people; it will have a tendency to develop that national spirit of which this Dominion stands so greatly in need. Quite as much as a protective tariff it will assist to develop interprovincial trade and enable Canadian industrial and financial institutions to do a successful business in Canada. The three Prairie Provinces of the West have advanced along this line to a far greater extent than the rest of Canada, and their example will be followed by the other Provinces, and also further developed here in the West.

Moving Pictures of Livestock Industry

Pathe Corporation Is Working In Conjunction With Grain Growers' Association.

Manor, Sask., is the scene of the initial chapters of a film story which is being prepared by the Pathe Film Corporation, which will show the working of the cattle industry from producer to market.

The film is being made by arrangement with the Grain Growers' Association, and shows the cattle on the farm of Chris Jacobi, followed by a scene of a large shipment being collected and loaded on the cars at the Manor stockyards and thence to the Winnipeg market.

On completion the film will be shown extensively throughout the west, and it is expected to show the western farmer in a way that could not otherwise be done, why some cattle are sold at a loss, and how to get the best results in marketing livestock.

To Increase Membership

Knights of Pythias Reducing Minimum Age Limit to Eighteen Years.

In conformity with its general program of policy of expansion by which it is proposed to carry the principles of the order into new fields of Pythian endeavor, the Knights of Pythias at the recent biennial convention of its Supreme Lodge at Minneapolis adopted an amendment to its organic law reducing the minimum age limit to 18 years. Since the order was founded, membership has been restricted to white male persons not less than 21 years of age and under 50, except that persons over 50 might be accepted as members by dispensations. But out of the great World War many lessons came of a nature calculated to change the old order of things.

Inspired by thoughts of service performed and sacrifices made by the boys of the land and being deeply sensible to the conviction that if a boy of 18 years is man enough, strong enough and patriotic enough to serve his country in time of war, he is competent physically, mentally and temperamentally to participate in the settlement of the problems of peace that came to us as a heritage of the war in which he fought.

The Knights of Pythias have invited boys and men of 18 years and over to enlist under the tricolored banner of Pythian Knighthood in the movement designed to banish discontent and discord and make the world brighter and happier.

Sunken Eyes Brighten Quickly. Health Returns

In a Message to Ailing Women Doctor Hamilton Tells How It Is Done

In speaking of the ills from which women suffer, Dr. Hamilton points out that nine out of every ten women are by nature inclined to habitual constipation. Harsh purgatives are resorted to which only intensify the trouble. Although not generally known, it is a constipated condition of the bowels that causes half the sickness and tired weariness with which all working is so familiar. It was after long years of study that Dr. Hamilton perfected the pills which have been of such marvelous benefit to women the world over. In his pills of Mandrake and Butter-nut every sufferer will find an absolute specific for constipation, sick headache and biliousness. It is safe to say that Dr. Hamilton's Pills bring better health and keep the system in a more vigorous condition than any other medicine ever discovered. At all dealers, in 25¢ boxes.

Love of The Wild

ARCHIE P. McKISHNIE

"Well, my putting that mill there might have been the death of me all right," he said. "But, lad, you haven't told me why you came to meet me with the hounds."

"Yes, sir, it was this way. A man from the village was chased by this 'ere pack last night. 'E was over at the stables to-night an' 'e told me, 'I came out a ways and listened for a time, an' when I 'eard 'em 'owl I let the big 'uns loose, thinkin' as you 'ud not mind my doin' it under the circumstances, sir.'"

"You did just right, lad," said Halibut. "But did you bring their leashes, Dick?"

"Right 'ere in my saddle bag, sir."

"Well, you'd better tie 'em up before they happen on an Indian. This country is getting so's Indians are becoming more valuable every day."

Dick chuckled. "They do 'ate Injuns an' niggers, sir; an', sir, that's true, but there's an old Injun from the Point by the name of Noah Sturgeon-waitin' up at the place to see you, sir."

The Colonel sniffed his brows. "Sturgeon?" he repeated. "Noah Sturgeon—don't think I ever heard of him."

"Your 'orse, sir?" questioned Dick, looking about him.

"Never mind about my horse—I'm going to ride yours. You follow up and keep a tight grip on the hounds. I don't want that old Indian to get eaten 'up."

"They passed on down the black trail, and the spot that had witnessed the struggle between the 'big uns' and the starving things of the Wild grew silent again with a great and oppressive silence. Only the tiny bare branches of the trees coked under the restless wind that shimmered fitfully when the night grew old. The clouds crept from the sky away down and below the forest fringe; then the white stars came out and rested, looking down on the Fire-Lick. Their soft light swept the open and fell across the crumpled forms of the dead things that lay, roamed the forest Wild. They lay pitifully silent and huddled, their red tongues lolling; their starving days at an end. Further into the second growth bushland there were others of them, lying cold, beyond all life of the Wild. They had been cut off from their own; they had starved and fought and died. But they were only wolves after all."

CHAPTER XII.
Injun Noah.

The cold dawn was stealing across the lake when Colonel Halibut rode into his yard and, dismounting, turned the horse over to Dick. The hounds leaped and fawned upon him and he sternly commanded them to keep down. He led them through the door to the great kennel yards and there arose a bedlam of glad yelps and growls of rage, as some favorite was petted or felt the fangs of jealousy of a stronger fellow. The master played the whip among them, laughing and shouting.

"Oh, you beauties!—Black Dan, you fire-eater. Down, Gabe, you branch of the devil. Poor old Jep; come on, pup, and let me pat your old sides; poor old Jep, noble old Jep. Weren't in the fight last night, were you? Too old, boy; too old and stiff. Every dog has his day, Jep, and every man, too. Egad, boy, I thought for a while last night that mine was over!"

The old hound laid his wrinkled chin in his master's hand and gazed up at him with age-weakened eyes. Some of the younger dogs of the pack retreated snarling, with bristles erect, and being down a short distance away, licked the wounds received in the night's encounter. Halibut walked across to a wide, low building and unlocked the door.

"In there, all of you," he shouted; and the dogs sprang toward the door. Old Jep came last, limping painfully, his whole attitude one of protest.

"Not you, old fellow," said the man; "you can stay out, and you'd best hang close to me."

He shrugged his broad shoulders, and with the old favorite following, crossed the yard and entered the stables. Dick was cleaning out the fetlocks of the horse the Colonel had just ridden in. He looked up as his master entered, then went on with his work.

"Where's 'Fry?' asked Halibut, peering into an empty stall.

"Turned 'im out in the yard, sir," stammered Dick. "'E was kicked in the night some 'ow, sir. I'm sorry, but hit couldn't be 'elped; 'e broke 'is 'alter-sir."

"That flame of Hades is always breaking his halter," cried Halibut. "Well, of course, that wasn't any fault of yours. Here's ten dollars to buy a halter he can't break, and keep what's over to get yourself a new jacket. I see this one you're wearing has been played with recently, eh?"

"Why, sir, that's so," laughed Dick. "It do seem, sir, as I can't keep any think whole any more, that stud Dobbo is that playful, sir."

"Well, you best look out that Dobbo don't get your head some time. And now when you've eaten and rested a bit I want you to put the saddle on Bay Tom and ride some of the kicks out of him. Go after the mare that turned traitor last night and fetch the wolf-skin back with you. They'll make the hounds a nice warm bed for the winter, and I guess they belong to the hounds all right. Don't know but what I owe those dogs something myself."

"I don't think, sir, as Bay Tom'll take like t' carryin' raw furs. 'E do seem t' 'ate th' scent of blood. 'E'll raise the mischief, sir, 'e will, and maybe kill me, sir."

"Well, if 'e kills you," said Halibut dryly, "I won't ever ask you to ride again. Now, you understand. And Dick, I want that horse put through his paces. Use quiet and spur, and lather him till he weakens. I'd do it myself only I've got to get the schooner stocked for a cruise."

"Very well, sir. And sir, the old Injun, 'e be waitin' to speak with you."

"By George—I had forgotten. Yes, I'll go in and see him now."

The Colonel's housekeeper met him at the kitchen door.

"Oh, sir," she cried, raising her hands. "I'm so glad you've returned. Halibut might have been scared most to death, sir. 'E's in there yet, sir, sittin' by the fireplace. 'E's awful to look at, sir."

Halibut chuckled and laid his hand on the old lady's shoulder.

"You mean the old Indian, Nancy? Bless your heart, woman, he's harmless as a baby most likely. Bet a dollar he's been at my deacons. I'll go in and see him. Just lay the table for two of us. Like as not, being an Indian, he can eat whatever he's hungry for or no."

"But, sir," protested the old woman, "you'll not 'ave 'im sit with you, sir."

"My dear Nancy, after what I've been through I'd welcome the company of a snake, providing it was a real snake and was clean. You'll please mind that, as you plates are laid."

The big man stalked forward and opened the door into the wide sitting-room. Before the log fire was bent a slight figure clad in buckskin. The Colonel saw an old withered man, his thin face seamed with wrinkles, his black eyes peering from deep hollows that age had sunk there. His hair was crow-black and long, falling about his narrow shoulders. He arose with a little motion as the Colonel entered.

"How?" he said in good English. "How?" returned the master of the house, holding out his hand. The old Indian looked at it, but made no motion toward taking it. He raised his arm and pointed about the room.

"Good," he said; "much good."

"Sit down," invited the Colonel. "Now tell me what brings you here. You live on 'Point Aux', I under-

"Much," he said; "very much. Noah wish to speak of Bushwhacker. You leave Bushwhacker there; no touch. You know Bushwhacker, girl—Gloss—you know, girl."

He pointed toward the portrait. It was that of a young girl with glorious long-lashed eyes and smiling lips. Halibut followed his gaze, frowned, then going over to the sideboard, glanced along the array of bottles there. He picked up a glass and sniffed it.

"Have you been sampling any of these bottles?" he asked sternly. "Noah no drink until he speak. Noah know her," pointing to the portrait.

Faint and Dizzy Spells. Weakness and Shortness of Breath.

You can generally tell when the heart is affected by the faint and dizzy spells, the shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensations, weak, sinking, all-gone feeling, choking sensation, etc.

Many men and women become rundown and worn out when otherwise they could be strong and healthy. They would only pay some attention to the first sign of heart weakness.

No remedy will do so much to make the heart regain strength and vigor, regulate its beat and restore it to a healthy and normal condition as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. C. A. S. Drake, Paris, Ont., writes: "I have used on towards the second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and find they have done me good. I had those fainting, dizzy spells, once in a while, and also weakness and shortness of breath, and would become so choked up at times I could hardly sleep without sitting up in bed. When walking too fast I would have to stop and try to catch my breath. I feel a lot better since I have used your pills and know that they have helped me wonderfully. I have improved very much."

The straw is colored but the grain is in perfect condition, weighing over 60 pounds to the bushel. The yield of wheat is reported in most cases as better than expected. Where the yield is light, farmers invariably give the reason as "poor cultivation." There are no failures on summer fallows well cultivated and free from weeds. The yield on such fields is above the average.

Serious House Shortage

Every Man Should Endeavor to Own His Own Home.

Those newcomers entering our town and making this their home have our sincere sympathies if in looking for a home they seek in vain. By a home we mean a real home, one fit to live in and that gives a sense and feeling of satisfaction.

The shortage of homes while a serious matter, yet is one of encouragement to the newcomer. It shows progressiveness, it points out that by building he will have a far readier sale for his own home if he desires to move. It indicates a demand, and a demand in a case of this kind is better than an over-plus.

In making this place your new home also make it your purpose to own your home by building. Build now, when the opportunity is the greatest. Any lumber dealer is fully equipped to render every co-operation in showing plans, figuring costs, etc.

Battleford and Lloydminster. In the Battleford and Lloydminster districts, threshing has commenced and a considerable amount of grain has reached the elevator, one elevator receiving 15,000 bushels last week. While in some limited areas in this district some of the wheat was sprouting, general conditions are very favorable.

FREIGHT RATES CASE ARGUED AT OTTAWA

THE QUESTION IS RAISED OF ALLEGED DISCRIMINATION

Eastern and Western Interests Both Want Freight Rates
Modified.

Ottawa.—Introduction of the question of alleged discrimination in freight rates between the East and West in the argument before the Government on the appeal from the railway commission, presents to some degree a new phase of the question, and there was some reason to anticipate that the case will be referred back to the commission.

In the judgment of the board, this question was gone into exhaustively. In the argument now in progress here, it proves to be a very vital element in the case with a rather curious conflict between different parties on the same side. It is not improbable that the case will be referred back to enable the question of discrimination to be looked into, the railways contending that it does not exist, the western counsel holding that it does and part of counsel for eastern interests contending that it should obtain anyway. The way out may prove to be a re-hearing before the board, thus relieving the Government of the responsibility of ratifying the increase and also of the distasteful process of overruling the commission which is a very rare occurrence, if the 1917 case can be regarded as a precedent. Should there be a re-hearing the increased rates meanwhile will remain in force.

While a variety of interests are lined up against the railway rates increase and ask the Government to disallow it, the attack is from divergent and rather conflicting angles. It is the old question of east and west. The railways seek a sharp increase in rates and they have got it from the tribunal which exercises jurisdiction over them. Provincial, municipal and commercial bodies are engaged in the appeal that seeks redress from the Government, but while the west wants rates determined in one way, the east wants it done another way. There is a variety of views and a variety of issues raised and this fact caused Sir James Loughheed to suggest that the appellants get together and determine just what points they desire the Government to pronounce upon.

Both the eastern and western interests, on principle, oppose the increased rates, and want them modified but, while counsel for the western provinces urge that all parts of the country be put on a parity in respect to rates, A. C. McMaster, for the Toronto Board of Trade, in today's argument, held out strongly for the maintenance of the present system, whereby rates east of the lakes are lower than those in the west. His contention was that, without this difference, the eastern manufacturer would be shut out of the western market which would be opened to American competition. It is apparent that the lot of the Government will not be an easy one in developing such a modus operandi as will suit the variety of appellant interests and concurrently minister to needs of the supposedly embarrassed utility.

Manitoba has sent down a clever advocate in H. J. Symington, whose address in opposition to the rate increase was easily the most elaborate. His contention was that the case must be decided on the necessities of the Canadian Pacific, and that it had not been shown that that company needed assistance. Admitting that assistance is necessary, it should not be granted till the disparity between the east and west is received. Another notable point was that the rates should depend on the service rendered and this was linked up with the contention that operating costs on the west are lower, revenues higher and traffic denser, hence the rates should at least be the same as in the east.

To Adopt Manitoba Plan

District Agent Will Fight Sow Thistle in Munosota.

St. Paul, Minn.—The plan successfully used in Manitoba—that of having district agents—to fight the menace of the sow thistle is advocated for the Northwestern part of Minnesota by J. H. Hay, deputy commissioner of agriculture, who says that the thistle situation is becoming serious in that district.

Mr. Hay urges that a plan of having county agents plan campaigns to eradicate the evil be worked out.

Complain About Car Shortage

C.N.R. Promise to Take Steps to Relieve Situation.

Winnipeg.—Steps will be taken to relieve the car shortage in Northern Manitoba on Canadian National lines, it was announced by A. E. Warren, general manager, following an interview with J. L. Brown, Pilot Mound, president of the United Farmers of Manitoba. Mr. Brown complained of the situation to the Board of Railway Commissioners here.

New Steamship Service Planned.

Victoria, B.C.—The British Columbia Coast Steamship Service has under consideration a round-the-island weekly service, as an attraction to tourists next summer. The plans call for the operation of the Princess Maquinna around Vancouver Island from Victoria. The boat goes as far as Quatsino Sound. Under the new scheme, she would round the end of the island and come down the inside, touching at points en route, going to Vancouver and then returning here.

1920 Wheat Reaches Montreal Harbor.

Montreal.—The first of the 1920 grain crop of Canada has just reached Montreal harbor. It was ascertained at the headquarters of the Canada Steamship lines that the Midland King, with over 200,000 bushels of 1920 wheat, had already unloaded its cargo at Port Colborne, from whence it is being transferred to Montreal.

Younger Mennonites Going to Quebec.

Quebec.—The younger Mennonites of Manitoba, who were at first unwilling to decide to leave that province with older members of their sect, on account of the educational restrictions, have now informed the Quebec Government that a delegation will be sent to the Abitibi region with a view to selecting land to migrate to.

Tax Receipts Five Million.

Vancouver.—Civic tax receipts swelled the total paid to the city treasury so far this year to over $5,000,000.

CANNOT AFFORD TO BE NEUTRAL IN POLITICS

HON. W. L. MACKENZIE KING SPEAKS AT VANCOUVER.

Liberal Leader Says That This Is a Moment of Transition in Political Conditions.

Vancouver, B.C.—Before a great audience here which gave Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and his colleagues a most enthusiastic reception and hearing, the leader of the Liberal party, addressing the second meeting of his tour of the western provinces, laid especial emphasis on the fundamental difference in attitude, methods and outlook between the party in office at Ottawa and that of the Liberal party.

This is a moment of transition in social and political conditions which will go far to determine the whole future trend of Canada's destiny as a nation, and no man for whom, the Liberal chief declared, can afford to be neutral in his or her political allegiance. The choice, he said, is between those who are not afraid of change in the social order, and those who resist change, and between those who are progressive and those who are reactionary. He said that in these days of readjustment, little thought or attention had been given to domestic affairs, that since the election of 1911, there had been no occasion on which the people of Canada as a whole had had an opportunity of hearing national issues discussed with reference to those problems which are primarily of domestic concern.

Hon. Mr. King discussed the leading questions of the day, the cost of living and the tariff, declaring that what is wanted is not taking of evidence but immediate reduction in prices of necessities of life. In regard to the high cost of living, Mr. King said, the country had left the people in the dark; taxation, and what he declared was the extravagance of the Government in the matter of civil service appointments and commissions, had played their part in this direction.

The excuse of war expenditure was being worn out, but the real explanation is that proper steps have never been taken to meet the conditions. Other governments, he declared, were all taking these matters into consideration, but the present Canadian Government still seems dilatory.

Dealing more particularly with the fundamental differences in attitude, methods and outlook, between the party in power at Ottawa, and that of the party which he represents, Mr. King said that these were days of new alignments in social and political orders all over the world, and

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

This is a Short Letter, But It Proves the Reliability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bothwell, Ont.—"I was weak and run down, had no appetite and was nervous. The nurse who took care of me told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I am getting strong. I recommend your medicine to my friends, and you may use my testimonial."—Mrs. W. I. Brady, R. R. 2, Bothwell, Ont.

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming woman's ills is because it contains the tonic, strengthening properties of good old-fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence, and as it contains no narcotics or harmful drugs it is a safe medicine for women.

If you want special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read, and answered by women only.

that throughout the period of the war, little thought or attention had been given to domestic affairs.

A body of voters, so large as to constitute an entirely new electorate had come to the fore, the young men between the ages of 20 and 30 and the women voters. It would be found that irrespective of the names by which they may be called, the choice of the electorate lies today, as in the past, between those who are not afraid of change in the social order, and those who resist order; between those who are progressive and those who are reactionary; between those who are prepared to trust the people and assist them in their struggle for a wider freedom, social, economical, fiscal and political, and those who mistrust the people and are more concerned in keeping intact the strongholds of privilege, than in widening the opportunity to the many who constitute the great citizenry of the nation.

Grain Tie-Up Benefits Farmers

C.P.R. Pays Advance of Four Cents Per Bushel.

Regina.—The tie-up of grain transportation on the Canadian National lines is resulting in a benefit to farmers marketing grain on Canadian Pacific railway points of four cents a bushel.

Instructions have been issued by the line elevators to all agents at Canadian Pacific railway points to pay the farmers an advance of four cents a bushel over list prices. This arrangement does not include the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company. This step has been taken to "speed up" shipments to the head of the Great Lakes.

Poland Receiving Allied Help.

London.—A wireless dispatch from Moscow says that Poland has received large supplies from the allies through Danzig. England, the message declares, sent seven steamers loaded with munitions and three tanks and 12 small vessels with provisions, while the United States sent ships with volunteers. From France, two ships arrived with more than one thousand infantry and 15 tanks, the message says.

Reduction in Collars.

Chicago.—A large middlewestern manufacturer of men's collars announced a 12 1-2 per cent. price reduction.

APPOINTMENT OF MINISTER TO U.S. IS POSTPONED

SUSPEND PLAN FOR CANA-DIAN MINISTER AT WASHINGTON.

Matter Will Be Left in the Hands of Sir Auckland Geddes to Decide.

Washington.—Appointment of a special Canadian minister plenipotentiary to the United States is understood to have been indefinitely postponed. Canada's interests in the United States thus will be left in the hands of the Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador, who, because of his long residence in the Dominion, is regarded by the Canadians as having full personal knowledge of the aims and needs of their country.

Steps, looking to the appointment of a Canadian minister, were at first taken some months ago, the Canadians feeling that because of the urgency in rebuilding the trade and economic relations between the two countries were pressing need for direct action on the part of Canada in Washington.

The British Government actually assisted in an appointment being made, and estimates were passed, covering such expenditures on Canadian behalf. The plan to establish a separate Canadian minister in Washington has been suspended, however, at least in execution.

An element which has been considered in connection with direct Canadian representation in Washington is that Australia, South Africa and other British colonies and dominions might desire such representation, in fact, there was a movement in some of the dominions for such representation, and the British Foreign Office was said to have taken the view that inefficiency might result from having several Dominion ministers in the United States.

What Is the O.N.O.

Club?

One day this week a reader was asked who these "O. N. O." people are who advertised in the Monitor News, that they were to have a dance on the night of the School Fair. Needless to say the lady gave the information desired, and said that the dance was a high success and that she thought everyone knew the "Our Night Out" Girls Club from their many successful entertainments. She also told the one seeking information, that all the girls in town and nearly all of the girls in the surrounding country belonged to this Club and that they were likely to hear of other big doings of theirs on or about the night of Halloween.

Cheer up Girls, the people are beginning to realize that you are here and soon will look eagerly forward to your dances, card parties and home talent plays. (?)

Monitor Curlers Have Enthusiastic Annual Meeting

The Annual Meeting of the Monitor Curling Club was held on Wednesday evening last in the G. W. V. A. Rest Room.
The meeting was very enthusiastic and the prospects are that there will be more curlers than ever this year. It was decided to continue curling for the season 1920-1921 and to repair the present curling rink.
Following are the officers elected for the coming season.

Patron W. J. Blair, Esq. M. P.
President Chas. B. Horsch.
Vice-President L. O. Gould,
Sec.-Treas. Jas. A. Hayes
Chaplain Rev. W. S. Wickenden

horn. Rink Committee, Messrs

Meat Market Instals New Machinery

Our local Meat Market is nothing if not progressive. In addition to the up-to-date slaughter house recently erected, Jack has now added a bone-crusher and a new 4 horsepower Cushman engine to the equipment of his rapidly growing business.

And So Does The News

We are this week installing machinery whereby the old fashioned method of "pumping" our two presses will be done away with. We are under the impression that we have developed elephantiasis or some other blamed thing in our leg from pumping the big press and receiving medical advice that the habit is derogatory to our health, we decided to instal an engine.

And So Does The Bank

We were down at the station one day this week looking for er - a parcel and we noticed a fine new engine consigned to the local Bank of Commerce.
We presume it will be used for the electric light system with which the bank will be illuminated.

And C. Yee Intends To

While definite arrangements are not yet completed, friend Charlie Yee informs us that he is going to instal an electric light plant in the near future thereby adding to the attraction of his Star Cafe.

Beaver Lumber Coy, Is Erecting New Building

Roy Crumer has the contract and is hard at it, erecting a magnificent addition to the yds of the Beaver Lumber Coy.
When completed the local yard will have the best buildings in the province.

And So Is Dan. E. Gruver

"Peace River Dan" is staying right on the job with his new barn which he is building.
Shingling is nearly finished.
We don't know what he is going to keep in the barn unless its his dog (or maybe he has a cellar underneath)

And so is T. H. Ferguson

Mr Ferguson is building a substantial addition to the house he recently purchased from J Reid. When completed it will make a very comfortable home and a credit to the village

KIRRIEMUIR

At last a long felt want is to be supplied to the public, thanks to the public spirited and enterprising D. F. Cockram, who is collecting by public subscription for same. A public reading and rest room will soon will be erected near the butcher shop. Lovell Bros commenced the excavating on the 4th. of October. People coming to town will greatly appreciate a place to rest, and also Franks kindness in thinking of their comfort.
